RECOMMENDATIONS:

- Bioacoustics based sensors can effectively reduce man wildlife conflict.
- Need to study of Environment conservation and Biodiversity on practical level and must be introduced with the latest technology.
- Scientist said that there is more need to work for food processing sector in India.
- Enhancement of food processing is necessary for proper food supply and need to develop basic infrastructure and technique for grain and food storage for future.
- Regular monitoring of environment is required by remote sensing and GPS technique for nature and resource management.
- Attention on wildlife conservation to maintain food chain and ecosystem for maintain our safe Environment. Plantation may be safe guard instead of wire boundary in National park and sanctuary.
- Needs to revise its current approach by adopting the ecological methods and innovative techniques of waste management.
- Evidences indicate that research is needed to improve the quality and quantity of compost as well as its efficient management.
- Biological process controlled nutrient cycling and influence many other aspects of soil fertility.
- Knowledge of these processes helps farmers make informed management decision about their crops, how these decision affect soil biology especially root growth and organic matters are key factors in efficient nutrient management.
- It requires training to the farmers in proper crop selection and farming practices and also the strict monitoring by the agriculture ministry.
- Species conservation must be prime target for eco-balance and global health.
- Much stress must be given on challenges at national level viz. Malnutrition, Poverty, and environmental degradation.
